MEMPHIS APPEAL.

MAYOR WALLACE, of Washington, officially denies the story of there being two gambling houses in that city at which richly-dressed ladies, connected with families whose standing is high in the community, earnestly engage in playing "faro." He says that he has made most diligent and particular inquiry, and can find no shadow of foundation for this aspersion of the ladies of that city.

There are female adventurers and demireps enough in Washington, employed to procure Congressional votes for rascally measures that rob the Treasury; but these come from States North of Mason's and Dixon's line, and only infest the city during the sessions of Congress. In other countries, such women gamble; and it is very likely they do so in this.

A NEGRO LAWYER REFUSED ADMISSION TO THE BAR.

In the court of quarter session Saturday morning, Judges Sterret, Mellon and Stowe being present, the decision of the court was rendered, denying the application of Geo. R. Vashon, colored, for admission to the bar. The court was unanimously of the opinion that the application should be refused. Judge Stowe read a brief written opinion, Judge Mellon gave his views, verbally, at some length.—Pittsburg (Pa.) Post.

If the negro is good enough to legislate for and govern white men in South Carolina, and soon to represent negro constituencies in the Senate of the United States, he ought to be good enough, one would think, to practice law in Pennsylvania.

THE Southern Democratic papers are vehemently assailing Grant because he proved to be "so reckless in wasting human blood" during the war. The South has some reason for this complaint. It comes more naturally from them, considering the result, than from Northern journals.—New-York Times.

We should like to know why. Grant lost three men to Lee's one; and at Belmont about in the same proportion. His strategy, proclaimed by himself, was, in substance, that he could afford to sacrifice two men, to put hors de combat one of Lee's. The great fault for which Napoleon is censured by some military writers was, that, at last, his strategy consisted in attempting to crush the enemy by superior masses, with immense losses on his own side, as at Eylau and Borodino,—a mere struggle of brute force against brute force, with which the science that saves men, by manœuvering was wholly disused. There never was a General in the world, "so reckless in wasting human blood," as Grant.

THE Nashville and Northwestern and Memphis and Ohio Railroads are just now at a dead stand-still, caused by a general strike by the employees; caused by failure of the companies to pay their wages. We hope and believe, however, that an early adjustment will be made, and business resumed.—Paris Intelligencer, 13th.

We met a gentleman connected with the Mobile and Ohio Road, while we were at Nashville, the other day, who gave us the particulars of the "strike" which has been so destructive of the interests of the road, and of those dependent on its regularity and promptitude to accelerate their own fortunes. The "strike" was not for failure to pay the current indebtedness of the company to the employees, but a back indebtedness running behind January last. Since that time the payments have been made weekly, and it was our understanding that the Directors offered to pay down one-half the back indebtedness, and arrange for the future payment of the balance, but declined to enter into a pledge not to discharge any of the employees on the present "strike." The men had evidently listened to evil counsels, and had committed a great wrong.

HOW TO STOP A DONKEY'S BRAYING.

Father Huc, that famous Catholic explorer of the interior of China, relates that on one of his long journeys among that strange people, his caravan embraced an unusual number of jacks among the donkeys employed as carriers of the exhibition; that these jacks at every resting place kept up such an intolerable braying, especially toward morning, as to render sleep impossible to the abbe; that at last he complained of this to the master of the donkeys, who instantly replied that his gracious highness should be no more disturbed by this braying; that, sure enough, a quiet night with its refreshing sleep followed, and that, on inquiring into the cause in the morning, he was pointed to the noisy jacks, each with a heavy stone tied to his tail. "That," said the driver, "is the way to settle them. The jackass stands upon his dignity, and will not bray unless he can straighten out his tail, and with a heavy stone attached he can't straighten it out, don't you see? Every time he tries it the weight on his tail pulls him down and shuts his jaw."

It is a great pity that the braying of Logan, on the Impeachment trial could not have been stopped by some such process. A patent to stop Congressional gabble would be an invaluable invention.

WELL SAID.

Diodorus Siculus relates that the forests of the Pyrenean Mountains being set on fire the heat penetrated the underlying strata of rock, rent it madly asunder, and that through the huge clefts there gushed forth pure streams of silver. So in circumstances of severe national trial unexpected national resources are surely developed. The line of policy pursued by the radical Republican party since the close of the war; the military despotism established over the Southern States recently engaged in the rebellion; the bold infractions of the Constitution; the base endeavor to destroy the Executive; the audacious curtailment of the prerogatives of the Supreme Court to advance partisan measures; the late unscrupulous attempt to make members of the United States Senate, sitting as a court of impeachment to try the President, bow submissive to its partisan will, and a foresight of the culmination of this policy if allowed to run its course, have set on fire the American heart.

The New York Herald thus sums up the villainies of the Jacobin faction which now lords it over the Constitution, makes war on the Courts and invades private rights; and it well characterizes that detestable party as "the Radicalism that rules in Congress, that controls our army, that exercises sovereign sway over our navy, that holds in contempt personal and constitutional rights; a Radicalism whose acts are antagonistic to the will of the people; an oligarchy as despicable as it is odious, as insolently tyrannical as it is basely unscrupulous."

From Warren County.

We understand that Judge Patterson has issued a mandamus, at the instance of the Southwestern railroad, requiring the County Commissioners to order a vote for or against the proposed tax of $60,000, by our county, to aid in the construction of said railroad.

The rust has attacked the wheat pretty generally through our county, but it is confined exclusively to the blade of the wheat, and has not as far injured the crop.—McMinnville New Era.

Wonderful.

The New York Herald has actually been consistent in the advocacy of Chase for the Presidency for fully one week. Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle.

That is rather longer, by a day or two, than that paper is in the habit of advocating the chances of anybody. Nor is a week's duration the slightest evidence that Chase's chances have met with no backset in all that time. The Herald was perhaps holding on to recover breath after its rapid saltations from side to side, keeping up with the daily disclosures of availability as made out by admiring friends and determined partizans. It will be remembered that Chase is an old love of the Herald, only inferior to Grant, and if it were a matter of consequence how the Herald would be (that is, on which side), at the latest moment, it might be important that its jump should be in a certain direction, and might be anticipated.

The press generally is very explicit in censuring our District-Attorney A. O. Hall, Esq., for his course in regard to the telegraphic operator who disclosed the contents of a private business dispatch. The act was in direct violation of the law. Yet Mr. Hall entered a nolle pros. because he was unwilling to condemn in an agent of the telegraph what "Congress was doing every day." We beg to remind Mr. Hall that Congress has a right to do many things which it would be a crime in any individual to do himself. The principle involved in law which requires telegrams to be kept sacred, is one of great importance to the public at large, and in our judgment Mr. Hall did less than his duty in failing to protect it. N. Y. Times.

Mr. A. Oakley Hall was right. The public is difficult to arouse, when the enormities of despotism affect only individuals at a distance. Congress has no more right to authorize a Committee to demand copies of all dispatches sent from a telegraph office on a particular day, than an individual has to open and read a particular dispatch.

Apply the theories of Boutwell and Bingham, as urged by them in the Court of Impeachment, and the practices of the Board of Managers sitting as an Inquisition, in the Courts of the country and to the business of men, and the innumerable mischiefs that will flow from them may awaken the people to a sense of their enormity, and arouse their anger against the men who are thus overturning the very foundations on which free government and social order repose. The faction that confers on a man like Butler the power to seize on a thousand telegraphic dispatches, sent under the lawful seal of confidence, and to take them to his room and there, at his leisure and alone to gloat over them, has no further step to take, to complete and crown its infamy.

ARKANSAS.

—The Augusta Sentinel of the 12th says: "Crops are looking finely. Corn and cotton look splendid; wheat headed well and ripening—some already being harvested. Vegetables and poultry are awfully scarce and prices high." Tell your farmers to have a vegetable garden, every one of them, and let their wives and daughters raise chickens and ducks. No epidemic of cholera will not be so bad another year. The Sentinel says: "Not a bushel of potatoes, peas or any vegetables have we known to be offered here from the country this spring. If some old Pennsylvania Dutchman would immigrate here, purchase a few acres of land near this place, and turn his attention to the raising of poultry and vegetables, he would, with three or four hands, make more clear money than some of our large cotton planters with their thirty or forty hands." Some of your people, who live in the town, might very well raise all the vegetables they need, and also supply their neighbors.

—L. B. Cunningham, Esq., State Treasurer, advised the people of Arkansas relative to the safety of their State funds, and demonstrates very clearly that they are not safely deposited in the Merchants' National Bank. The Little Rock Gazette of the 13th says: The address of Treasurer Cunningham recites facts which can be applied to show that the public funds of the State have been employed to propagate a party which proposes to disfranchise and politically outlaw ninety-nine out of every hundred tax payers of the State. Before we have done with this matter, we expect to make it appear that the State funds have been further used to advance private interests and for purposes of private speculation at the risk of the State.

—On Monday of last week, at Helena, a fire took place in the grocery store of D. H. Fisher, (colored) occasioned by the explosion of a lamp. Loss, $2800; insurance, $2000.

—The Little Rock Gazette says: At the last meeting of the military council, we notice from the published proceedings that a resolution was passed instructing the city attorney to demand from Noah H. Badgett, Esq., a title to the Fowler property under the conditions proposed by him in his offer of sale made some time ago. We are gratified to notice the fact that the city is not likely to complete the purchase. The property was not suitable for school purposes, and the purchase of it by the city would have been a grievous wrong to an already overtaxed community. When the taxpayers of the city decide to go into speculation in the city property, it is probable that they will commit the management of their business to others than a body which is to be selected annually by a crowd of ragamuffin negroes, from among those who carry all their real estate about their person.

—Little Katie Gilbert was to appear at the Little Rock Theater on the night of the 13th, for the benefit of Mr. and Mrs. Gray.

—The Little Rock Gazette of the 11th says: We are pleased to learn that all the stock in the Arkansas State Agricultural and Mechanical Association has been taken. This assures beyond all doubt the holding of a State Fair on the first Tuesday in November next.

—The Helena Clarion of the 11th says: Gen. T. C. Hindman has been suffering from a severe attack of erysipelas. We are gratified to report him better.

—At Helena, says the Clarion, on Friday evening, of last week, two negro girls went to the jail to see some one of the prisoners confined there, and whilst waiting for admission, took their seats beneath a high perpendicular embankment near by. They were hardly seated before a huge slice of the embankment caved off and was precipitated upon them with swift and crushing weight, killing them instantly, falling also upon a horse-cart, the cartman himself barely escaping. The earth was cut away and the lifeless bodies of the two girls found.

THE Petersburg Index says: "A few days since a wealthy colored man, living in one of the adjoining counties, brought his crop of loose tobacco to town to be sold. It was made known at the break that the owner was a Conservative negro, had voted the Conservative ticket, and that he was in full sympathy with the Conservative party, and his tobacco, which was really worth only some eight or ten dollars per hundred, was run up to and sold at sixteen dollars per hundred. It was a graceful reward for independent conservatism."

SECRETARY SEWARD has at length found a foeman worthy of his steel in the Emperor of China, who writes a letter to our Government covering twenty feet in length by two feet in width of royal parchment. The odds appear heavy, but we bet our bottom dollar on Seward. He will either beat the Emperor of China's best, or perish.

TENNESSEE.

—The Paris Intelligencer of the 13th says: "A few days since several negroes, near Mansfield, indulged themselves by insulting white persons, and flourishing pistols, etc. The night following some parties unknown took them out and whipped them genteely, though not severely." Why have not "Brownlow's mellish" been sent out to hunt up the tracks of the Kuklux?

—Mr. W. H. Wallace, through the Murfreesboro Monitor, gives as a sure preventative of the ravages of the cut-worm in clovered land, the use of a tablespoonful of common salt, sprinkled on each hill of corn.

—The examination is now progressing at Union College, and on Thursday the addresses of the Junior Class will be delivered, as well as an address from Prof. Thos. T. Eaton at the University Hall.

—The commencement exercises, says the Murfreesboro Monitor, of Cumberland University will begin on the 22d inst. Monday and Tuesday nights will be occupied by the orators of the societies. Wednesday the graduates of the law department will be engaged in moot court exercises; Wednesday night the valedictory to the law class, and awarding of the diplomas to the class. Thursday will be occupied by the literary graduates in the delivery of their speeches, and Thursday night Dr. Baird, of Nashville, will deliver an address to the graduates of the literary department.

MISSISSIPPI.

—Water Valley is soon to have an extensive corn and flouring mill.

—We learn from the Water Valley Eagle of the 13th, that the cotton factory is nearly completed at that place, and that in a few weeks the whirr of 5000 spindles may be heard. This certainly is a move in the right direction.

—They are to have a grand Masonic Festival and Ball at Water Valley on the 23d inst. The proceeds are to be applied to embellishing the Hall with a suitable carpet.

—A great Democratic mass meeting and barbecue is to come off at Brookhaven on the 18th.

The Wonderful Spectroscope.

One of the most notable things about the development of modern science is the manner in which discoveries or inventions in one branch of inquiry are of immediate and signal service in elucidating other and apparently unconnected matters. Of such inventions the spectroscope is one likely to be of incalculable advantage, as by means of its refracting prisms it is enabled to separate and exhibit the spectra or rays of light which different substances reflect, each in its own characteristic series of bands and lines of color. By this means several new metals have been discovered, the atmospheres of the sun and other heavenly bodies analyzed, and discoveries are opening up to its powers on every hand. It has been put to a practical use in analyzing the flame of a furnace during the process of making Bessemer steel, so that the exact moment when the process is complete is instantly shown by the change in the spectrum—a most delicate point of metallurgy not otherwise determinable. The latest use to which it has been put will give it a fame in the annals of medicine and of law, as it furnishes a means of analyzing and recognizing human blood, whether in abnormal secretions of disease or in dried stains upon other material. The haematine or coloring matter of the blood shows a spectrum entirely different from other substances with all its general appearance and color; so that where even the microscope fails, the spectroscope will instantly detect so small a matter as the one-thousandth of a grain of dried human blood. Thus all sciences gain from each one's progress.

MEMPHIS APPEAL.

ALBERT PIKE & CO.

Vera Atque Honesta Dicere.

For President of the United States,

ANDREW JOHNSON,

OF TENNESSEE.

[Subject only to the decision of the National Democratic Conservative Convention.]

PLATFORM OF THE TENNESSEE DEMOCRACY.

1st. The Conservative men of Tennessee, putting aside all questions decided by the war, accept the title of 'Democrats,' and formally unite themselves with the Democratic party as it now exists.

2d. The question of the right of a State to secede from the Union has been decided by arms, and that decision should be accepted as final and conclusive.

3d. Nevertheless, while the Constitution makes the Federal Government supreme, it is so only with well defined limitations and restrictions, leaving the States large rights and powers over their domestic concerns, and making them coequal in respect of such rights: and these rights have not been impaired by the result of the war, or the powers of the General Government aggrandized by it, to the endangerment of public liberty.

4th. The extinguishment of African Slavery is recognized as a fact, ratified by a binding Constitutional Amendment.

5th. The investiture of negroes with the right of suffrage, by the Congress of the United States, and the disfranchisement of white men, by the same authority, is a gross usurpation of power, and a policy unjust, unwise and oppressive, and tending to excite a war of races: the white men of America are entitled to superiority and supremacy in the administration of the Federal and State governments; and any measure intended to deprive them of it, or to divide or impair it, greatly endangers the perpetuity of free republican institutions.

6th. The faith of the nation is pledged to the payment of the National debt, according to the terms of the laws under which the bonds were issued, and not otherwise. The time of payment of the bonds ought not to be extended; the principal of the five-twenty bonds ought to be paid in currency, and the money granted to the National banks to be withdrawn.

7th. The Government bonds should be taxed in the hands of the bondholders, equally with other property.

8th. The doctrines and practices of the Radical party, which endeavours, by encroaching upon the powers of the Executive and Judicial branches of the Government, to absorb in the Legislative Department all powers, tend to the destruction of the Republican system of Government and the civil liberties of the people.

9th. Equal and exact justice to all men, of whatever State or persuasion, religious or political; peace, commerce and honest friendship with all nations; entangling alliances with none; the support of the State Governments in all their rights, as the most competent administration of our domestic concerns and the surest bulwark against anti-Republican tendencies; the preservation of the General Government in its whole constitutional vigor, as the sheet anchor of peace at home and safety abroad; a jealous care of the rights of election by the people and the supremacy of the civil over the military authority.

10th. Andrew Johnson the first choice of the Democracy of Tennessee; but their Delegates left free to unite in selecting another as the candidate for the Presidency.

FUTURE COURSE OF THE SOUTH.

From the New York Times.]

There is a frankness, if not wisdom, in the declared purpose of a certain class of Southern politicians to undo the work of reconstruction and disfranchise the negro as soon as the States regain control of their affairs. Thus the Richmond Whig expresses itself on the subject:

The latest platform of the very party under whose auspices reconstruction is being carried on recognize the States now in their practical relations with the Government as having the exclusive control over suffrage within their borders. Whenever Congress admits the Southern States into the Union, their rights will, even in Radical contemplation, be the same. The Chicago platform will cover them as it now covers the others, and they can call Conventions and regulate suffrage to suit themselves. They will do it, and thus the same question which the Radicals pretend to wish to settle, and which they have declared reconstruction should settle, will remain open. So their pretended reconstruction is no finality, no settlement, no pacification.

The constitutional right of the Southern as of all other States to regulate the question of suffrage for themselves, so soon as they again become members of the Union, is indispuisable. "Fundamental conditions" affirming the nonexistence of this right, or restraining its exercise within defined limits, will amount to little, practically, unless they take the shape of an amendment to the National Constitution. For how are these conditions to be enforced? If a State, having been restored to representation in Congress, chooses to disregard them—provided only its action be in conformity with the provisions of its own and the Federal Constitution—how is Congress to prevent or to punish it? By exclusion from Congress—in other words, by expulsion from the Union—or by what other process?

The idea of attempting to hamper the Southern States by a promise that after they have been re-admitted into the Union, they shall never exercise the right of depriving the negro of the privilege of suffrage, under the penalty of being kicked out of the Union if they do so, would never have been hatched in any other than a Jacobin brain. The Southern States and some others will make common cause on this subject; and the government of the country will be restored to white men, and the negro be "set back" into the place where he belongs. Let the whites of South Carolina and Mississippi, for example, send a negro Senator or two to Congress, and there will be an explosion in the Northwest that will shatter Radicalism into fragments.

No white man in the South, who is opposed to negro suffrage and negro equality, will ever feel that the Constitutions which are now being fastened like fetters on our States are in reality a supreme law for him, having the sanction of any divine, or legal or moral obligation. They are a monstrous progeny, the issue of Force and Fraud, begotten in sin and brought forth in Iniquity. There is not the slightest legal or moral obligation on any white man except those who helped in the unholy and dirty work, to obey them; and they will be obeyed only until they can be unceremoniously swept out of the way, with all the accursed laws that are already being prepared to be spawned under them.

Every principle which gives to Governments their authority and make the laws enacted by the majority the acts, in law, of all, has been violated in making these monuments of the crime and folly of faction, and imposing them upon the people against whose consent they were made. Pretending to apply in practice the Principles announced in the Declaration of Independence, they are all treated with sovereign contempt in ll that infamous legislation under which hese abominations have come into a fraudulent existence.

Here are ten political communities of white men, for whom it is pretended that free governments are established; the first step in the process is, to exclude a great body of the citizens of each from any voice or participation in the creation of those governments, to treat them as public enemies commorant in the country by sufferance, and release them from all obligation and allegiance to the government so established. The disfranchised white man, there and in Tennessee, is not far from being what the Helots were in Sparta and the Catholic Irish in Ireland. To complete the work, the right to participate and even to control, in making the Constitutions that are to be the law of force and fraud for these men, is given to hordes of emancipated negroes: and under these outrages, insults and contumelies, it is supposed that those thus disfranchised are to rest in contented acquiescence!

Radicalism is a monstrous conspiracy against human liberty. Its success can only be temporary. Through what convulsions the country has to pass, before that which is now being done shall be undone, we have no gift of foresight to enable us to know; but to doubt that it will be undone, and that its perpetrators will be adequately punished, would be to doubt the Justice of God.

RALEIGH, N. C, June 15.—W. N. Holden, Governor elect, will issue a proclamation to-morrow, convening the General Assembly on the first of July. The officers will be installed, it is understood, as their disabilities have been removed, except such as have already qualified, who it is presumed will comply with the law of Congress just passed.

NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, June 15.—Gen. Buchanan has relieved the New Orleans Gas Company from the action of Banks' order of March 15th, 1864, requiring said company to transfer to the Quartermaster's Department all the stock standing on its books in the name of persons in the civil or military service of the Confederate Government, or who had not complied with the act of Congress of July 17th, 1862, or the President's proclamation of December 8th, 1862, and all such stock, together with the unpaid dividend account since July, 1866, is released from the restrictions of said order.

No attempt was made to inaugurate the State officers to-day, according to Packard's two proclamations, though they were in consultation this morning, and a considerable crowd of negroes were in attendance at the Mechanics Institute, in expectation of this important event.

The Premium Stake of $700, for all ages, one mile and five furlongs, was won by Lancaster, beating Meteor one and Red and Red Dick two lengths. Time, 2:57¼.

The bark Ontario, from New Orleans, bound for Havre, was wrecked off Hatteras on the night of the 11th, and the captain and fifteen of the crew drowned. Four were saved by clinging to portions of the wreck.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Senator Doolittle did not attend the Chase meeting at Philadelphia. Being chairman of the Executive committee of the Democratic and Conservative members of Congress, he felt that he was not at liberty to take active measures in advance of the convention relative to the candidate to be nominated.

The President to-day withdrew from the Senate the nomination of Gen. Mott as Minister to Costa Rica, at his own request.

Rumors have been in circulation that S. M. Clark, Chief of the Printing Bureau for the Treasury Department, has resigned, but nothing very definite can be ascertained with regard thereto, except that several days ago Clark intimated to Secretary McCullough his readiness to resign upon a close examination into the affairs of his Bureau by a Special Commission to be appointed by the Secretary for that purpose, and an account of the stock duly made and reported. No such Commission has as yet been appointed, although it is believed that such action will be taken and Mr. Clark's resignation will then be tendered.

The Surratt trial has again been postponed until next Wednesday, the Government not being ready to proceed with it.

Mr. Rollins proposes to answer Secretary McCullough's last communication.

FOREIGN.

BERLIN, June 15.—The North German Parliament has passed a bill authorizing the Government to raise a loan, the proceeds of which are to be applied to the enlargement and improvement of the Federal navy.

LISBON, June 15.—The mail steamer from Rio Janeiro brings the following intelligence: After the bombardment of Humaita the allies made a combined attack on the rear of that position to gain possession of the forest of Gran Chaseo, and thereby cut off the communications of the Paraguayans. The assault was repulsed after a desperate engagement, and the allies compelled to relinquish the attempt. The siege of Humaita still continues, and the fortress is closely invested by land and water.

LONDON, June 15.—The Daily News says the long experience, training and high character of Reverdy Johnson are guarantees that he will represent the United States as a whole and not sectionally.

The Times says that no envoy could have been sent with more confidence as the spokesman of a great nation, and the unanimous ratification of his nomination is an unexampled testimonial that his intellect is admirably trained to discuss the prevailing or probable issues, with precision, impartial dignity of character, breadth of learning and charm of manner.

In the House of Commons this evening, the Secretary of Foreign Affairs, Lord Stanley, said the Egyptian Government entertained a plan for the establishment of a code of laws to protect the rights of residents in Egypt of foreign birth, and that the Viceroy was desirous of carrying the measure into effect.

CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Mr. Fowler introduced a bill to provide for the better security of life on steamboats and other vessels. Referred.

The following House bills were introduced: Amending the habeas corpus act; and also to define felonies and misdemeanors. To regulate challenges in the United States courts, and for the division of Texas and her admission into the Union.

Mr. Drake called up the bill for the relief of certain contractors for the construction of vessels of war, steamers and machinery. He said the contractors had been unfairly dealt with by the commissioners appointed by the act of March 24, who reported favorably in regard to the six iron-clads built in the East, and unfavorably to the rest, they having been built in the West; and that all the contractors desired was to go to the Court of Claims and establish their claims. The bill passed, with some amendments, by 24 to 17.

The bill supplementary to the act to provide that the National cemetery shall be secured by a pledge of United States bonds, and to provide for the circulation thereof, approved June 3, 1864, was then taken up. The question was on the amendment of Morrill, of Vermont, as follows: "And on the issue of any increase of the national circulation, as provided in this section, the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized and required to withdraw an equal amount of United States notes."

Norton gave notice that he would move to add the following: "And the United States notes re-issued shall not be obtained by the sale of bonds, but shall be taken from the funds in the Treasury, collected in the ordinary way."

Cole addressed the Senate, in favor of the proposition of the Committee, to make the $20,000,000 increase, and the debate was continued by Morrill, Conkling and Fessenden.

Sumner obtained leave to introduce a resolution which was adopted, inviting the Chinese Embassy to visit the Senate on Wednesday next.

A motion to adjourn was rejected.

Morrill's amendment to the currency bill was also rejected.

Davis offered a substitute which was not acted upon, and the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

A resolution was introduced to authorize the Secretary of War to deliver a certain ordinance to the States of Arkansas, Louisiana, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Florida for the use of the militia on the discontinuance of the military government therein.

The House then passed a resolution instructing the Committee on Ways and Means to report a separate bill to the revision of the tax on the manufacture and sale of distilled spirits and tobacco by 75 to 62.

Schenck offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That after the report of a tax bill by the Committee on Ways and Means, in pursuance of the order just passed, no other business shall be in order but the consideration of the bill so reported by the said Committee, except the reports from the Committee on Enrolled Bills.

This was adopted under a suspension of the rules.

The river and harbor bill was made the special order for to-morrow.

The Senate bill relating to the contested election in Washington was then taken up, debated some twenty minutes, and passed by 94 against 39.

The House refused to receive Mr. Logan's resolution for the removal of the Capitol.

Mr. Robinson offered a resolution, which was adopted, requesting the President to take measures for the release of Warren and Costillo, now imprisoned in England for words spoken and acts done in the United States.

Murders in Alabama.

The Mobile Evening News of the 12th inst. contains an account of the murder of N. E. Thomas, editor of the Choctaw Herald, on Tuesday last, by "Joshua Morse, the Attorney General elect of the scalawag oligarchy," assisted by Wm. Gilmore. A Mr. Pierce, overseer of Mrs. McCormick's plantation, was found dead on the road, having been shot, and his head shockingly beaten with a club.

FROM a letter dated from Fraut, Sussex, written by Mr Allnatt to the London Times, we glean the following interesting astronomical observations: "The succession of furious hurricanes which occurred of late in the Mauritius had their mitigated counterparts in this northern hemisphere. On the day of the fatal cyclone of the 11th and 12th of March, an equatorial gale, almost due south, raged in England. Again, on the 13th of December, 1867, a cyclone passed over the Mauritius, and in England the wind was rough, squally and unsettled. If we possessed authentic records we might probably find that the atmosphere of the whole earth is sometimes simultaneously stirred to its depths by these mental perturbations. It is an ascertained fact that the diameters of the great wind circles which visit England from intertropical regions vary from 700 to 1000 miles. During the month of April several sudden condensations occurred, which ended in thick fogs or hail stones. Deep purple mists also hung on some days amid the foliage of the distant landscape. Altogether the month was insalubrious and the rate of mortality high. On the 4th an earthquake was felt at Jersey, a dense fog existed in London, and at Maidstone, in Kent, the sun's force at noon was one hundred degrees."

MEMPHIS, TENN., June 15, 1868.

Editors Memphis Appeal:

Like "a sunbright isle in the stormy main," or "a spot of azure on a clouded sky," I find at the close of a lengthy editorial in yesterday's Avalanche the following beautiful and appropriate sentence:

"Then let the Democratic banner be flung to the breeze, our principles emblazoned upon every fold, whispered in every breeze, and thundered in the tempest, till its echoes shall rouse the fainting spirit of every patriot and freeman in the land to work for that victory which will surely come if we can rise above petty feuds, and be governed by Union, concession and harmony—everything for the cause, nothing for men."

While I cheerfully accept this in the spirit in which it was manifestly written, I must—that I be not misunderstood—say a brief word in reply to other portions of the article referred to.

In "taking sides between two friends," I made no attack but a simple defense of an absent friend, to whom, in my opinion, an injustice had been done; and had the names been reversed, and the injustice done by Col. Cooper to my esteemed friend of the Avalanche, my defense would have been as prompt in his behalf.

There is no ground for fear that the "Confederate soldiers" will be deceived into the belief that an "insult to Gen. Forrest," or "an outrage upon them," was intended, either by Col. Cooper or his "indorser;" what we said and did was for their benefit, and met the approval of many of that class with whom I conversed. They know that our highest hope is to relieve them of their political disabilities, and thus restore our State and National Government to the control of the white race, to whom it legitimat ly belongs.

If recognising the attack on Colonel Cooper as "coarse" is "injustice and misrepresentation," it must be charged to taste rather than a wrong intent.

And now, in conclusion, I am able to say it gives me pleasure to at my article has afforded the Avalanche an opportunity, even at my expense, to indulge in its characteristic—not "coarse"—wit; and as my "cachoshes scribendi" which in my case has not become chronic—has been relieved, I accept the challenge which seems to have been given in the quotation at the beginning of this article, "to-wit:" that our little contest be decided by considering that one as vanquished who does the least in the coming battle against the common foe.

Yours, respectfully,
JOHN W. LEFFWICH.

Where to Live.

All good men should live in Archangel; all angry men in Ireland; all murderers in Kildare; all circus men in Somerset; all brokers in Stockholm; all cold men in Chili; all geometricans in Cuba; all fools in Folly Island; horticulturalists in Botany Bay; wags in the Bay of Funday; perfumers in Muscat or Cologne; brewers in Malta; gluttons in Turkey; beggars in Hungary; laconic men in Laconia; mourners in Siberia or Wales; confectioners in Candia; children in Crimea; oil speculators in Greece; dyers in Greenland; gamblers in the Farce Islands; stumblers in Tripoli; curious men in Pekin; shoemakers in Bootan; all soldiers in Armenta or Warsaw.

Life is a Strange Problem.

One moment, in the midst of prosperity, we stand with the world in homage at our feet, the applause of multitudes ringing in our ears, the sunshine of happiness streaming along our pathway. A moment more, a revolution in the wheel of fate, the hand of an invisible destiny empties its wrath upon our heads, adversity sets in, the world puts on a look of scorn, the voice of praise is hushed, the light grows dim, our earthly career closes in darkness to open again in the light beyond the sky.

IN MEMORIAM.

CAPERS—It is sad to think that day after day we have to part with our best friends, and follow them to the City of Silence (Elmwood), where lie the remains of so many companions of our youth, coupled with those who fell in defense of our beloved country. But how still more sad is it for the writer to recall the memory of one so dearly prized as the late FRANK G CAPERS, so universally esteemed, and having all those manly attributes which distinguish their possessor from the common herd of men. Little did we think that in so short a space of time he would be called away, and we should have to follow him to his new made grave. Alas! it was but too true. On Saturday, May 30th, the sad announcement was made that the friend of our better days—

"None knew him but to love him,
None named him but to praise"—

That FRANK CAPERS had gone home to his God who gave him life, vigor and manhood. The writer knew him to be one of the kindest and most genial of friends—true to the principles which characterize the Christian citizen and gentleman. None could more fervently and truly return the love and admiration showered upon him by his many acquaintances, and the sterling qualities for which he was character zed endeared him to a wide circle. He was truly an ornament to society, and winning in his address, and marked for the purity, integrity and fidelity of his friendships. Affectionate as a brother, firm and reliable as a friend, the vacuum caused by his death will long continue, and may not easily be filled. The promise of future distinction, the enjoyment of a long life, is suddenly and prematurely closed by the cold and merciless shaft of death. It will be a melancholy consolation and comfort to his bereaved relatives to know that none could leave a brighter memory behind, or go to the assurance of more perfect peace with Heaven. T. O. S.

POPULAR WORKS ON FREEMASONRY

PUBLISHED BY THE

MASONIC PUBLISHING

—AND—

MANUFACTURING COMPANY,

432 Broome Street, New York.

LITURGY OF THE ANCIENT AND ACCEPTED Scottish Rite of Freemasonry, for the Southern Jurisdiction of the United States. By Albert Pike, 33d, Sov. Grand Commander. 8vo. Splendidly illustrated with Chromo-lithographic plates and numerous wood engravings, Part II, 4th to 14th degree, $5 10.

☞ It would perhaps seem unnecessary after giving the above title-page to say anything further in the way of recommendation. The name of the author should of itself be a sufficient guarantee of its worth. Ill. Bro. Pike, by his learning and contributions has done as much to elevate the standard of Masonic literature and extend a knowledge of its symbolism, ethics and history as any other living man. This book, in its particular department, may justly be considered a master-piece, embracing matter not only useful to the Masonic student of every grade, but to men of science in the highest literary field of the present age. Notwithstanding this book has been preceded by several of a similar character, yet to Bro. Pike alone is due the honor of first exploring this branch of Masonic literature and of opening to the admiration of the Craft its vast storehouse of knowledge and beauty. This work contains the degrees of the ancient and accepted Rite from the fourth to the fourteenth inclusive, is elegantly illustrated with chromo-lithograph engravings, showing all the jewels, costume, furniture, etc., belonging to each degree. No expense has been spared in getting it up, and it is without doubt the most elegant, as well as one of the most useful books, ever offered to the Fraternity.

Published and for sale by the Masonic Publishing and Manufacturing Company, 432 Broome street, New York, and Booksellers generally in the United States.

☞ Copies of the above for the Memphis Brethren are ready for delivery at the Editorial Rooms of the APPEAL, 14 Jefferson street, upstairs. 1w jan29

"OLD FOLKS AT HOME."—A meeting of the society known as the "Old Folks at Home," is requested at the editorial rooms of the Avalanche office, this evening at 4 o'clock, to make arrangements for the approaching anniversary.

MR. R. M. MCKIE, for some time since connected with the business department of the APPEAL, has severed his connection with that paper.—Evening Ledger.

Mr. McKie never had any connection with the APPEAL other than that of an agent soliciting advertisements, the cessation of which was not voluntary.

JOE LOCKE, at his literary depot, is always looking out of the window in search of novelties. Look in there this morning, and you will find Demorest and Peterson's, for July, with the latest fashion plates; the Jolly Joker, Nicknax, Comic Monthly, Yankee Notions, all for July; Day's Doings, German Leslie, Police News and Gazette, LaCrosse Democrat, Harper and Leslie, Scientific American, and scores of monthlies, dailies and weeklies, to suit all tastes.

THE MUSICAL AND DRAMATIC EXHIBITION of the Misses Bowers and Prof. Seyfert, which was first appointed for Friday evening, at the Memphis Club Hall, will positively take place there on Thursday evening, June 18th, the Hall being otherwise engaged for the succeeding evening. To impart more interest to the occasion, Miss Victoria Bowers will herself recite a poem, an admirable satire, at the expense of fashionable young ladies. We have had the pleasure of hearing Miss Bowers read, and can promise those who expect to be present, an intellectual treat rarely enjoyed.

POLICE ITEMS.

—Joe Jackson, colored, was yesterday arrested for stealing a pair of pants and $15; sent up by 'Squire Griffith in default of bail.

—'Squire Black yesterday arrested John Jackson on several very serious charges, among which were "assault with intent to kill, seduction, etc.," and committed him in default of $2000 bond to the Criminal Court.

—Hudnel, who was charged with shooting an insolent and defiant negro, was sent to the Criminal Court yesterday, by 'Squire Griffith, under $5000 bonds.

THE TOURNAMENT.—The several committees have been indefatigable in completing the arrangements for the grand entertainment of the season. The Knights, under the instructions of Capt. Van, have been studiously accomplishing themselves for the trial of skill beneath the approving smiles of grace and beauty. Col. Coleman, the Grand Marshal of the day, has given his personal attention to the general direction, and a splendid amphitheater has been erected for the display of the gallantry of the Knights. The trains on the Charleston Railroad will run regularly at stated intervals through the day, and every convenience will be afforded for reaching and returning from the grounds. As incidental to the festival, which beyond question will be a grand affair, we may mention en passant that the managers received yesterday from that large-hearted, noble gentleman, Dan Able, Esq., a package of twenty tickets in the Paschall House drawing, to be devoted to the charity which is the great object of the Tournament. The present was worthy of the donor, and although but $100 in itself, may be the means of realizing for the beneficiaries that sum a thousand fold. We shall endeavor to describe the improvements that have been placed upon the grounds, in time for to-morrow's issue, to show what ample provision has been made for the accommodation of the public.

MISSISSIPPI VALLEY NAVIGATION COMPANY.

Meeting at Chamber of Commerce Yesterday.

Pursuant to a resolution of adjournment of the meeting held on Saturday evening, and a call issued in the APPEAL of yesterday morning, there was an assemblage of the merchants and bankers, railroad and steamboat men at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday. The meeting was called for noon, but at half past twelve there being only some forty or fifty present, it was thought advisable by T. A. Nelson, Esq., President, to call the meeting to order.

[Before proceeding with our report of the proceedings, we will state that as the meeting called on Saturday evening, and the adjourned meeting yesterday, were purely and solely to consider, report on, and take action on the project of the Mississippi Valley Navigation Company, and examine the plans of Capt. DeHaven, we shall publish nothing that is not directly concerning or immediately germain to the subject. The several speeches and harangues that had for their object anything else than the subject in discussion, have been purposely omitted.]

The meeting having been called to order, the President, T. A. Nelson, Esq., introduced the subject by saying that "the present is an adjourned meeting, whose objects can best be understood from Capt. DeHaven. That we, of Memphis, have been asleep is evident. We must wake up, if we hope for any commercial prosperity. If we can, by aiding Capt. DeHaven, benefit ourselves, let us do so. We have lost a great portion of our commerce by railroads running to the east of us, and we must counteract that. If we lay still our commerce must perish. Here, too, is the Selma road—a question that is now being discussed. We must do something to counteract that influence. We must encourage the steamboats of the Western rivers, and our Western railroads."

The first thing in order is the report of the committee that was appointed on Saturday. Will the gentlemen please report?

The report of the committee was then read, which is as follows:

To the Chamber of Commerce, Memphis:

Your committee appointed by the Chamber of Commerce, on Saturday evening last, to present to a subsequent meeting of the Chamber of Commerce the practicability of the plan of the new enterprise of Capt. DeHaven for building and establishing in the New Orleans trade a line of low pressure steamers, built upon new and improved models; and also to report upon the probability and practicability of getting up a sufficient amount of stock to complete said enterprise, beg to report upon its entire feasibility; and that after looking into the plans and explanations of Capt. DeHaven, after carefully weighing the advantages which must accrue to the city of Memphis, and the entire country tributary thereto, have no hesitancy in confidently advising the cordial co-operation of every member of the community interested in building up the interests of our city and section, and of expressing our faith in its ultimate and certain success; and we most cordially invite the taking of at least a portion of the stock by every business man in this city and vicinity. We beg also, furthermore, to report the special importance of the enterprise to each and all the Railroads centering in Memphis, and to enjoin upon them the importance of owning a fair proportion of the stock.

[Signed] WM. R. MOORE,
JNO. R. WATKINS.

It was moved and seconded that the report be received.

The President put the question whether the report should be received or not, and it was voted in the affirmative unanimously.

The chair called on Capt. DeHaven to address the assemblage, and the Captain responded in the following words:

GENTLEMEN: It is evident that the commerce of the Mississippi river has for a long time been gradually disappearing. It is apparent that in our age we have overleaped the study of rivers, and have turned our attention to artificial means of transportation.

Your geographical position gives you the advantage of four or five feet of water between here and the Gulf, over those cities that are situated above you on the river. Much talk has been made about direct trade with Liverpool, Paris, West Indies, etc., and to run vessels directly from here to these ports. This idea is impracticable, in the present state of river navigation. There is no boat that runs the river that could communicate with any foreign port. A boat constructed on my plans can run as well from New Orleans to Galveston, as from here to New Orleans; or freight shipped by a boat made according to my plans, can be transferred into a vessel at New Orleans by the improved machinery, much more readily than ever before. The great geographical position has much to admire. It is a centering point for railroads; there is a difference of water (of which I have before spoken) which is an immense advantage, and yet cereals from the West pass you and do not touch your door. Your merchants receive but little from anywhere. To bring them here in quantities you must have rapid elevators, so that they can be received and reloaded, and carry them to New Orleans. Your city has every advantage that could be wished to build these very vessels that we are trying to get your subscription to. No better buttocks (steamboatmen will understand what I mean), no longer planks can be found anywhere than in the woods across the river. There is another advantage that you have here—when freezing weather comes on in the latitude where the steamers are generally built—you have no ice here. The finest pine timber can be just as readily landed at your wharf as at Evansville, or New Albany or Jeffersonville.

You should not only become a railroad center, but a center where mechanics of all sorts should congregate—some to work on the hulls, others to join the cabins, others to make the engines, etc. There is not only a feasibility in all these things, but an absolute necessity that they should be. You must not be asleep—other cities are struggling for this supremacy.

I only wish I could more fully explain the enterprise, and descant fully on the geographical position of your city. But, gentlemen, you must not be asleep and wait for nature to do more than she has done for you. There are other cities on the Mississippi. Paducah is even now making arrangements and efforts to take these advantages away from you.

You have advantages that other places have not. You have no ice to contend with. You have eight to ten feet of water the year around; other places, above you, have only five or six. Do you propose to use these advantages?

I proposed to build you a boat from the kelson up the other night. I hardly know whether to do so or not. Your Special Committee of practical men have reported and I should be glad to hear them speak.

Capt. DeHaven sat down and Mr. Gates arose, and said that he was ashamed of the small attendance present, and made some further remarks statistical and otherwise, which, belonging to the class of which we spoke, altogether irrelevant, we have not reported.

Capt. J. M. Lee, Jr., followed in a very eloquent, but also irrelevant harangue of nearly an hour, in which, though he said many very fine things and spoke of the "topographal" position of Memphis, scarcely touched on the subject in question.

Judge Swayne followed in an elegant and most telling speech, rebutting to a certain extent, yet otherwise supporting Capt. Lee's remarks. [Some parts of his speech were very fine, but the tenor of his remarks were directed rather at the various railroad companies running into and by Memphis, than about the matter in question, which, like Capt. Lee, he only touched.] Judge Swayne finished after a fine peroration, by moving that a committee of five be appointed to solicit subscriptions to the movement on hand.

Col. Moore, having been called on to speak, said he was no speaking man, but made a short and happy address—only he too wandered off into an attack on railroads.

These attacks having been made at the Railroad Companies, Col. J. W. Robertson, Superintendent of the Memphis and Little Rock Railroad, at the request of several gentlemen, replied in most eloquent and glowing words, which we regret that time and space forbid our reporting in full. He alluded in most eloquent words to the effect of enterprise and energy, and cited Atlanta, Ga., as an example. He rebutted in every particular the charges so elaborately and surreptitiously brought in against railroads and railroad men, completely demolishing all the arguments of the gentlemen who went there prepared to use up the railroad interest, and after a most enthusiastic encomium of Capt. DeHaven and his plans, sat down amid a storm of applause.

Mr. Gates again followed, and said that he hoped that a sort of "revival" could be gotten up in this matter, and proposed that one more effort should be made to get the citizens together, fully aroused to the importance of this subject, and that as next Monday was the next regular meeting all present should be requested to attend.

The President then said that the motion of Judge Swayne, which had been seconded, was before the meeting, and called for a vote on it, whether a committee of five should be appointed or not.

This was settled unanimously in the affirmative, and the President appointed the following gentlemen to serve: Dr. Watkins, Capt. Lee, Mr. Hanauer, Mr. Mahan and M. E. Cochran.

The meeting then adjourned to next Monday.

1448 to 1462 Same vs Kuppersonmidt.

SHELBY CIRCUIT COURT—George W. Reeves, Judge.—Several cases on the trial docket were disposed of on yesterday. The cases set for trial to-day are from numbers 98 to 140 inclusive, excepting Nos. 107 and 125. The Grand Jury made a report upon the sufficiency of the bonds of county officers. The bonds of Barney Cox and Wm. M. Lammon, Constables, were found informal and unsatisfactory, and they are required to report at this term of the Court and give new additional bonds. We extract the following from the report: "The Jury would add, in accordance with their duty, they visited the County Jail, and through the courtesy of Mr. J. P. Foster, the keeper, and his efficient assistants, Mr. John Mageveny and others, were shown through all of the various departments. We found the same an admirable building, well ventilated, and supplied with all the conveniences necessary for the health and comfort of its inmates. We also found the same clean and entirely free from any offensive smell, and, in our opinion, well kept. The boarding department under the supervision of Major Morton is well conducted, and from investigation we are led to believe the prisoners have a plentiful supply of wholesome food. The prison books show, fifty white prisoners and one hundred and twelve colored."

At a meeting held to-day, June 15th, by the members of the medical profession of the city of Memphis, at the office of Dr. Wm. E. Rogers, on motion Dr. B. W. Avent was called to the chair, and Dr. William B. Harrison was appointed secretary. The meeting being called to order, Drs. Wm. E. Rogers, D. D. Saunders and R. L. Butt were appointed a committee to draft suitable resolutions touching the death of Dr. J. J. Hooks. Whereupon the committee presented the following which were adopted:

Resolved, That in the death of Dr. Hooks, who has so suddenly been called from our midst to take up his march along the "dark valley and shadow of death," society has been deprived of a bright ornament, and the profession one who was a bright light. Naturally modest and unobtrusive, it was only those who knew him best, that loved him most; always a hard student, he was ever thoroughly posted in the medical literature of the day, and often have we been charmed by the detail of his researches into the hidden mysteries of our art; and those who knew him well will often miss his pleasant medical conversations, while the medical profession at large has lost in his death a devoted ornament.

Resolved, That we tender to his relatives the poor boon of a sincere condolence, at the loss of a son, brother and friend.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be published in the Memphis papers and be forwarded to his relatives and friends, with the expression of our sympathies with the bereaved in this his early and sudden death.

It was moved and carried that the Committee on Resolutions be instructed to draft a suitable biographical sketch of the deceased, and publish the same in some medical journal.

The meeting then adjourned.

B. W. AVENT, Chairman.
WM. B. HARRISON, Secretary.

A THIEF SHOT.

A kinky-haired African, recently pardoned out of the penitentiary by Brownlow, and who hails from somewhere up the country, wishing to emigrate to some warmer climate, and having heard that Memphis was the darkey's paradise, stole a horse and a carpet-sack, and soon found himself trying to effect an entrance into the residence of Mrs. Shehan, on Commerce street in this city, on Saturday night. Unfortunate for the nig, whose name is William Henry, Officer Sauerman, of the upper district, was around, and took him away from the first little job of work he had found after coming so far from home. William Henry was locked up until Monday morning, when, upon being taken out for trial, he broke and run. A few well directed shots, which, we regret to say, were not quite as well aimed as they might have been, brought him to the ground. His wounds were dressed, and those who know him best fear that he may survive them long enough, at least, to visit his friend, the Governor, once more at Nashville.

Editors Memphis Appeal:

We wish to inquire, through your columns, Messrs. Editors, who is responsible for the present shameful condition of the street on the south side of Court Square? To us, it is perfectly unaccountable that while all the surrounding streets and alleys in its vicinity have been paved and are in comparatively good condition, this little segment of street, bordering upon the only ornament as yet the city owns in the way of a park, should have been left for so long in its present horrible state. For more than twelve months it has been growing from bad to worse, until the limit of passive endurance has been reached. The dwellers upon the south side of Court Square are patient folks, but there is danger of exhausting even our stock of forbearance.

Before the work of paving was begun in Memphis, we were infinitely better off than now. Then, we had at least brick guttering of sufficient inclination to carry off some of the liquid garbage and offal that in our sewerless city finds its way into those open conduits. But the first effect of the zeal for paving that seized upon our city authorities about a year ago, was to deprive us of even these. Some thirteen months since, a detachment of the paving contractors set industriously to work tearing up the brick from these gutters and setting curb stones, which excited pleasing anticipations of a well paved street at an early day; but it seems that they exhausted themselves with this effort, for nothing more has ever been done towards the further improvement of the street; and, moreover, the brick thus taken up were hauled away, and two rasping ditches left where the gutters had been, which, after every rain that has since fallen, have more resembled sloughs, or pools, than anything intended for purposes of drainage. The change in the grade of Second street has erected a complete dam across these gutters at the intersection of South Court and Second streets, and converted them—especially the one on the south side of the street—into mere cesspools, reeking with filth of every description; and the deposit from these has gradually filled and raised them until, in some places, no trace of a gutter is left, and the sidewalk has to serve for a gutter whenever it rains.

It is, we repeat, past comprehension that this little segment of street between Main and Second should be thus strangely neglected, and the most pleasant outlook upon our pretty little square thus suffered to degenerate into a nuisance. Why is it that less important and less frequented streets are being paved to the confines of the corporation, and this festering sore in the heart of the city is left to generate diseases in our midst? It is not because the property holders on the south side of the Square are not willing to meet the necessary expense of paving. They will cheerfully do their part. Then let the work be commenced at once, before a July sun shall make it dangerous to attack and remove the mass of foetid matter that will be exposed to daylight when the excavations necessary for paving are made. We invoke the aid of the eloquent pen of your chief in our behalf. Let ground be broken early this week and the work completed without delay.

White river is declining, with twelve feet in the channel through to Augusta. The Arkansas is receding, with twenty-six inches above Little Rock, and three and a half feet in the channel from Little Rock to the mouth.

NEW SCALE PIANO-FORTE.

GROVESTEEN & CO.,

499 Broadway, N. Y.,

THESE instruments, after the most flattering testimonials from the first Pianists in the country, who, at our solicitation, have tested them in the severest manner possible, have been announced THE FINEST SQUARE PIANO-FORTE MADE IN THE WORLD.

It has always been our policy, during the thirty-six years that we have manufactured Pianos, twelve thousand of which are now in use in the United States and Europe, to give the finest instrument at the lowest cost. Our superior facilities enable us to offer them from one to two hundred dollars less than any other First Class House.

The tone of these instruments are remarkable for their peculiar Sweetness and Great Brilliancy, never losing their quality when forced to their utmost capacity. The lower register retaining its positiveness, does not destroy the middle and upper registers by mingling with them in disagreeable confusion, the refined beauty of tone being equally delightful in the unpractised and to the most cultivated ear.

They are an entirely new style of Piano, finished in the most superb manner, with full round corners front and back, heavily carved legs and Lyre Serpentine Base richly moulded, and each instrument is fully warranted for five years. sep6 d&wly

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE NATIONAL

COMPANY.

A new enterprise, to be known as the National Telegraph Company, has been organized with valuable franchises conferred by a recent act of Congress for the purpose of establishing Trunk Lines of Telegraphs on all the principal railroads and mail routes in the United States. The stock is to be issued upon the same principle as that of the Merchant's Union Express Company, which recently commenced operations. The design is to interest the entire business community in the enterprise. This is done, not so much to dispose of the stock as it is to secure the business of the country through which the lines pass.

The Capital is to be

In 100,000 Shares, of the par value of

$100 PER SHARE,

But the actual amount to be paid in cash is

$35 Per Share,

And this amount is to be paid as follows: One per cent. of the par at the time of subscribing, and no more, until the entire capital has been subscribed, and then on calls to be made by the Board of Directors; instalments not to exceed five per cent. per month. When thirty-five per cent. of the par value of the shares has been paid, certificates of stock will be issued This will give the company a paid up

CASH CAPITAL OF $3,500,000,

Which will be sufficient to duplicate lines to all or nearly all the paying points reached by the present monopoly.

The present Telegraph Companies of the country have been consolidated into one huge monopoly, and are now earning over SIX MILLIONS OF DOLLARS per year, or over one hundred per cent. on the actual cost of their lines, their present capital having been watered over ONE THOUSAND per cent.

THE NATIONAL TELEGRAPH COMPANY have a recognition from the United States Government of the importance of their enterprise, with a grant of the most valuable franchises ever conferred upon a telegraph company. No competing line has ever had the right now granted by Congress to this company to construct and operate lines over every RAILROAD and MAIL ROUTE in the United States. The position of this company differs from that of any company ever before organized. The question of the RIGHT OF WAY IS FOREVER SETTLED.

The stockholders of this company cannot be sold out or TRANSFERRED to any other company. The act of Congress under which this company has been organized, prohibits any transfer of the franchises granted.

CALLS---HOW TO BE MADE.

One per cent. of the Stock will be required on subscribing, and subsequent calls, not to exceed five per cent. per month, will be made by the Board of Directors, from time to time, as may be necessary, to supply funds to construct and equip the lines; but no calls will be made after the one per cent. is paid, until the ENTIRE CAPITAL STOCK shall have been subscribed.

ACTUAL CAPITAL REQUIRED

The Company confidently believe that thirty-five per cent. of the Capital Stock will construct and fully equip

35,000 MILES OF WIRE,

Which will connect all the commercial centers and important places in the United States This opinion rests upon the most reliable estimates and responsible offers to construct and equip the lines.

The National Telegraph Company is organized under the Laws of the State of New York and franchises conferred by an act of Congress, approved July 24, 1866.

MEMPHIS APPEAL

BY TELEGRAPH.

Noon Dispatches.

BROWNSVILLE, June 15, 1 p.m.—In the Supreme Court this morning the case of Randolph vs. Metcalf was finished. The Chancery docket will not be taken up this term, but is set for the first of next. The Court will adjourn July 1st.

NEW YORK, June 15.—Officers Lyman, Hildebrandt and Anderson, of the Fourteenth ward, were attacked by a mob last evening and badly beaten. Lyman, in plain clothes, had entered a liquor saloon and asked for a drink. He was no doubt recognized, as he was forcibly ejected by those inside and attacked by others in the street. The other two named officers went to his help and received like treatment. Capt. Garland arrived with a reserve and quelled the riot, making several arrests.

The naval cadets arrived at West Point yesterday morning in the practice fleet of the academy at Annapolis. The formal reception will take place to-day, after which Gen. Grant will award the diplomas, and Prof. Coppee, of the Board of Visitors, will deliver the oration to the graduates.

Last evening a Presbyterian re-union meeting, of the members of the Old and New School, was held at the church of Rev. John Hall. Addresses were delivered strongly favoring the cementing of the former divisions, by Rev. Drs. Crosby, Adams, Shedd, Smith and others. The attendance was very large.

Rio Janeiro dates to the 9th state that Lopez was strongly fortifying upon the river Tibercia, with an army numbering about 10,000 men. Lumatia still remains in the possession of Lopez, although the Brazilian fleet is anchored above and below it. The sickly season had set in, and the men of the allies were making important demonstrations, owing to the consequent delays. It is reported that the Government had instructed the Marquis Caxicas to assault the city at any cost. The rumors were gaining credence in Buenos Ayres that the United States intended to interfere. The General Assembly of Brazil was awaiting a quorum to be regularly opened by the Emperor. President Mitre, of the Argentine Confederation, will probably be impeached immediately on the assembling of the Congress.

DETROIT, June 15.—During a severe storm at Grand Haven, yesterday, the House of Alex. Van Senwick was struck by lightning and Van Senwick and a boy named Bolgoin were instantly killed.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL,
MEMPHIS, June 15, 1868.

The money market during the week has been quiet and steady, with no marked variations except in the operations in exchange, which show some improvement over those of last week. The demand for city bonds from abroad has been active, while transactions in stocks of various kinds have been greater than usual, increasing the volume of exchange so that very light shipments of currency only are needed to meet drafts. Rates are the same as last week. Our discount houses buy New York sight at par to ¼c premium, and sell at ⅜c premium. New Orleans is taken sparingly at ¼c discount; selling at par. Sight drafts on Louisville, Nashville, St. Louis and Cincinnati are sold at ¼c premium.

Gold has advanced slightly during the week, opening in New York on Tuesday last at 139¼c, and closing to-day at 140¼c. Operations here are restricted by slight offerings, while the counter demand is also small, compelling dealers to keep a shipping margin upon Eastern rates. We quote at 138½ to 139c, buying; selling at 140 to 140¼c.

The Scrip market is quiet but very firm. Brokers are anxious to buy at 75c, but are unable to do so, holders asking 80c. We think, however, that 77½ to 78c would bring out a few lots. The city at this time is in a better condition financially than for many years. Arrangements have been made to fund $300,000 of City Scrip, which will leave a balance of city indebtedness of something less than $700,000 yet to be met. To satisfy these claims we have taxes past due and other debts due the city to the amount of $300,000, which will be collected speedily and by law if necessary. In addition to this the assessment for the corporate year amounts to $550,000, all of which, it is determined, must be paid promptly. The current expenses of the city for this year will, under no circumstances, go over $150,000, a very remarkable falling off, when we state that in the last six months of the last year over $300,000 were paid out of the city Treasury for losses sustained by individuals in City Scrip alone. The $700,000 mentioned above as remaining indebtedness, it must be remembered, covers all the unadjusted claims against the corporation—the scrip still afloat, and $180,000 of past due coupons. It is estimated that next year's assessment will not need to be over $450,000. It is not alone in this market that the effects of the financial management displayed by Mr. McDavitt and his co-laborers are felt. Our credit has improved abroad until the foreign demand for city bonds has become very active, and prices have run up from a mere nominal value to 53½ to 54c, at which figures several lots have been sold during the week. These sales did not include the July coupons.

Memphis and Charleston Railroad stock has advanced during the past few days, and is in good demand. The call for it comes from the East, and is no doubt of a speculative character, but it must be flattering to the new management of the road. Several orders have been filled during the week at 52c.

County Warrants are dull. One or two brokers are short and disposed to buy at better rates than on Saturday, but a very small amount would satisfy the demand. We quote at 60 to 62c, buying; selling at 63 to 65c.

Police Scrip is quiet at 80c, buying; selling at 84 to 85c.

The Liverpool Cotton market for the week opened dull, and prices declining; Uplands 11¾d, Orleans 11¾d. There has been no reaction during the week; on the contrary prices have declined gradually. That market yesterday opened quiet, with Uplands 10¾d, Orleans 11d, and closed irregular—Uplands 10⅞ to 10¾d, Orleans 10¾ to 11d. The New York market of yesterday opened dull and unchanged, with less pressure to sell, closing with a moderate demand and prices firm; holders asking 29c for Middlings. Our market has shown no animation during the week. Two or three buyers were all that could be found, and they were not by any means hungry for cotton. They were buyers for Western spinners—very few, if any, Eastern manufacturers now sending their orders to this market. There is very little Middling cotton in the market, and what there is was bought at higher rates than now prevail, and will be held until the new crop comes in, rather than sell at a loss. The transactions in the staple have dwindled down to such an ebb as to lose nearly all interest and many of our largest sellers as well as buyers are unable to give an approximate idea of the prices prevailing. A few bales of Middlings in first hands are held at a limit of 29c, but the offering rate is not over 27 to 27¼c.

Wholesale Market.

The general markets, like the money market, has been quiet during the week, and prices have favored buyers in almost everything. The warm, clear weather has been beneficial to the crops everywhere, and the reports coming in by telegraph and mail are very favorable, and should no accident occur, we may hope to realize from this source, if not a large amount of money, at least a greater degree of independence than we have felt since the war. Corn is in fine condition, but is said to be suffering in some sections for want of rain. Never before was the Memphis market so liberally supplied with vegetables of all kinds as at present. New wheat is coming in, and prices bid fair to be fully up to those of St. Louis. A lot was sold on Saturday by Messrs. Evans & Johnson of Front street, to the Poplar Street Mills, at $2 35 per bushel. This wheat came from the plantation of Mr. J. T. Scott, near Cuba, in this county. The grain was small but plump and sound. It would have sold much better had it been well cleaned. Several lots have been received at this point and shipped to St. Louis, but this lot was the first of the season sold here to be manufactured at home. There are numerous wheat buyers now in this market, and prices will, we think, vary little if anything from those ruling in St. Louis. The meat market is quiet and prices on some kinds irregular, while others are firm. Clear sides, for instance, are firm, and our inside quotations represent the very lowest price at which from 10 to 20 casks could be bought. Mess pork is quiet and disposed to be weaker than last week, under a very light demand and a slight decline above. The dry goods market is weak, with but a light trade doing in staple articles. Prices are altogether in favor of purchasers, as stocks are larger than desirable at this season. Bleached goods are lower. In fact all kinds of goods could be purchased a trifle lower than last week. In boots and shoes we have very little change to report. Stocks are ample and well selected. Probably there never has been a finer stock of seasonable goods in Memphis than at present in this line. Prices are about the same as last week—probably a fraction lower—owing to anxiety to sell before the close of the season. The Shoe Reporter says of the New York market:

The demand from the State, city and near by retail trade continues fair for all descriptions of seasonable goods, while sales to the Southern and Western States are limited to small parcels to fill assortments. Ladies' fine serge boots are scarce and in active request, the demand exceeding the supply. Men's fine work, both high and low cut, together with heavy, whole back kip boots, are in fair call with small stocks from which to select.

The grocery trade has been moderately active, with no change in prices, except that sugar is lower and coffee has declined about ½c per lb. In cattle there is only a slight local trade doing. Large numbers pass up the river daily from points in Texas, and we learn that the Memphis and Charleston Railroad has contracted to transport several thousand head to Virginia.
